MOTOR TRANSPORT SPRINGS BIG SURPRISE BY DEFEATING GUNNERS

CAPT. McKay and his Motor Transport warriors kicked the old days but not today down Saturday afternoon, on the Fort Bliss gridiron, when they trounced the heavy 82nd Field artillery eleven.

The victory of the Purple players, by a score of 6-0, was not only the big upset of the Army Football League, but was the big surprise of the year in district football circles.

Prior to the game the Artillerymen were figured as certain and easy winners, and odds of two to one were freely offered against the chances of Murphy, De Wolf, McKay, et al. The Motor Transport team, which had triumphed over the Quartermaster Corps, a week ago, by a count of 12 to 0, on Thanksgiving, had been away from the Purple by a score of 12 to 0. Moreover, the Artillery had a powerful line to oppose a mediocre back and had first on all sides, one back and Jagger, another strong man, in the backfield.

The Purple did not achieve victory through outplaying the Artillerymen throughout the game. On the contrary, the Artillery outplayed its opponents throughout the first half and the greater part of the second. Five different times the Purple was in the shadow of the Purple goal. But each time they failed to cross the line.

On the five yard line, twice the Artillery failed to make for the goal where the ball was held in a snarl, once losing the ball to a half back and the other time by less than a foot. And twice they lost the ball on fumbles when they were in close, but two or three more plays would have put the ball over.

Although the Artillery players frequently went through the Purple line for substantial gains, this supposedly weak line held firm down to a number of occasions. On the offense the Motor Transport line also exceeded expectations. While the Purple backs did not gain as frequently as the large gains as the Artillerymen did, they frequently made first down as the result of the line.

The Motor Transport players were the result of their efforts on the field forward pass, which caused the Artillery to have a great deal of trouble in the last meeting of these two teams. It was overhauled, and the fact that the entire Purple team played the same splendid brand of football as they did against the Tigers, that resulted in victory.

Prior to the game it was thought that the Purple players played over its heads against the Purple, principally because of the game against the Quartermaster Corps. But Saturday's game showed that it was really been playing better form in recent games, and the Motor Transport combination when using the forward pass.

Passing Responsible. De Wolf and McKay were the outstanding stars of the game. It was De Wolf's beautiful passing, which was the key to the Purple's victory.

was largely responsible for the loss. McKay's receiving of these passes and running with the ball was an almost equal factor. McKay scored the Purple touchdown when he received an eight yard pass and dashed 10 yards across the line. Murphy and Couch also played a strong game for the winners. Couch making several pretty runs. On one of these he went 41 yards for the only long run of the game.

Morgan and Jagger looked best for the losers.

The Quartermaster Corps was also scheduled to play Saturday afternoon. The Buff opponents were to have been the Purple players, but the latter forfeited Saturday afternoon the leading Seventh Cavalry team was in have played the team representing a midland company No. 10 and the Signal Corps. But the latter team preferred to forfeit rather than suffer a humiliating loss at the hands of the Purple players.

Sunday morning the Eighth Cavalry came back to school and style and scored somewhat for the Purple. The Purple players, who had been defeated by the Purple, were in have played the team representing a midland company No. 10 and the Signal Corps. But the latter team preferred to forfeit rather than suffer a humiliating loss at the hands of the Purple players.

Burns, as usual, was the big star of the Purple team. It was his intercepting of forward passes and his subsequent getting away for long runs, which allowed the Purple to pile up their big score. On three different occasions Burns ran more than 60 yards for a touchdown, and once he scored a touchdown on a 100 yard run.

Landers was little behind Burns at the starting line. He hit the line almost as hard as Burns. He frequently started the ends for long runs. Twice he went more than 60 yards for a touchdown, and once he scored a touchdown on a 100 yard run.

Duffy has shown, while his tackling was equal to that of Burns, Lee also played a strong game for the winners at halfback, as did Parker and Lee.

Fast Teams Practice. In place of the regular scheduled game the star teams practiced on Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The Purple players, who had been defeated by the Purple, were in have played the team representing a midland company No. 10 and the Signal Corps. But the latter team preferred to forfeit rather than suffer a humiliating loss at the hands of the Purple players.

ENGLISH BANTAM CHAMP LOSES POPULAR VERDICT TO AMERICAN

Sturdy United States Battler Outpoints Jimmy Wilde in Eight Rounds of Ten and Has Englishman in Bad Way in Two of the Rounds; Wilde Weighs Less Than Sharkey But Fails to Show Brilliant Form.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 8.—Appearing before the American public for the first time since his bout with the country several years ago, Jimmy Wilde, English bantamweight champion, was decisively defeated here Saturday night by Jack Sharkey of New York, in two fast rounds.

Sharkey kept after his opponent from the first gong and never let up until the last minute of the ten rounds. The cheering of Wilde was somewhat of a disappointment to his supporters who were betting freely that he would outpoint Sharkey in a majority of the rounds. On the other hand Sharkey made a large number of friends by his clever boxing and aggressive action during the ten rounds.

Will Challenge Herman. Wilde, who had not boxed since last July when he outpointed Pat Heene in London, lived up to some of his advance critics. His judgment of distance was bad and there was little power behind his punches. Sharkey showed his counterpunch power in the sixth round when he delivered a straight left to the side of Wilde's head and landed more frequently and with greater force than Wilde.

Wilde was a three to one favorite, although there were plenty of Sharkey admirers in evidence. Wilde was given a tremendous ovation when he stepped into the ring. He followed a few minutes later with a Joe Beckett, pulled some one from the crowd. The little Welshman smiled.
